HEALTH BOARD ASKS WATER CONTROL IN BILL BEFORE SENATE

DR. A. R. QUIGLEY MADE VICE-PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL BOARD

Rules and Regulations of New Board Adopted at Tuesday's Meeting—Work Starting Smooth.

Warm Fight On In State Senate Between State Board of Health and Owners of Water Systems In Various Cities.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—Dr. A. T. McCormack, secretary of the state Board of Health, and representatives of various waterworks companies were heard by the Senate Committee on Public Health this afternoon on the Brock bill to place all waterworks of the state under the supervision of the Board of Health. The committee adjourned without deciding on the measure.

Dr. McCormack had the moral support of delegations of citizens from Paris, Winchester, Hazard and Mt. Sterling.

He denied that the passage of the bill would give the board arbitrary power, pointing out a provision that permit differences of opinion to be settled by an arbitration board of two engineers selected by the water works company and the board.

"This measure is for the protection of human life from polluted water supplies," declared Dr. McCormack. "We are spending more money on typhoid fever than on education in this state. One might as well issue licenses to murderers as, after knowing the facts, to permit water companies too continue to sell polluted water."

Dr. McCormack said that citizens of the various Kentucky towns including Harlan, Glasgow and others were subjected to peril because of inadequate waterworks and consequently polluted water.

"The great cry of the water companies is that they must have water to put out fires," he said. "The water that is being sold in many Kentucky towns puts out life."

Robert Gordon, of Louisville, and W. S. Forgy, of Elkhorn, representing utilities companies, declared that the proposed law would hamper their operations. "You have redress in the courts," argued Mr. Gordon. "There is now a penalty for supplying polluted water, and I am of the opinion that a court could force companies to supply pure water by a mandatory injunction.

"You would force out of operation many companies whose equipment the State Board of Health does not like. One of those I represent has a gross revenue of only $250 a year. It could not put in a new plant if the state board requires it."

A plea also was made not to give the board too much power and not to take from the courts the "proper power vested in them by the Constitution."

NO MORE ESCAPES THROUGH HOLE IN COUNTY JAIL.

There will be no more escaped from the Mason county jail through the window between the two hospital wards, through which two big jail deliveries have been made recently. This space between the two hospital wards has been solidly concreted and the follows who use this manner of escape will have some job on their hands to dig through the concrete.

LARGE AUDIENCE SHOULD HEAR GREAT BOSTONIAN LECTURE

Lecture Under Auspices of Local Knights of Columbus on Friday Night, February 7th, Is Free to All.

An intellectual treat is said to be in store for those who attend the free lecture to be given at the court house on Friday, February 7th, at 7:30 o'clock. The subject of "History in the Making" is to be the theme of David Goldstein, the Boston author, lecturer and debater.

Mr. Goldstein is announced as "an interesting speaker, gifted with a keen penetrating intellect, a marvelous flow of language, and a trenchant, almost cold-blooded way of driving fact after fact right home to his hearers. He does not mince words, and every sentence he utters is given in a way that almost forces assent."

The Albuquerque, N. Mex., Morning Journal said: "It would have been well if every young man and woman in New Mexico could have heard this forceful orator." The Rochester (N. Y.) Post Express says: "Mr. Goldstein is one of the foremost American speakers against radicalism. His knowledge of his subject is so thorough and his manner of imparting that knowledge so clear and concise as to make him a factor in the battle against the foe of American institutions. People should never miss an opportunity to hear him."

One of the great features of the Knights of Columbus free lectures is its "quiz period," when the audience is invited to throw questions at the speaker, be they of a doctrinal, historical, philosophical, or even a personal character. Speaking of this feature of the lecturer's work, the Post-Record of Granite City, (Ill.) says:

"Goldstein's lecture perhaps never had a parallel for straightforwardness. It was startling and far-reaching. Without a doubt Goldstein is a wonderful man in his line. The fact that he urged interrogation while he was present, instead of waiting until he left town is further proof of his accuracy in making statements."

WHISKY TAKEN IN RAID MUST BE RETURNED.

Restating his position taken in the case two weeks ago holding the search warrant used to raid the home of Isaac Miller on the Versailles pike illegal, federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran entered an order at Lexington directing the prohibition department to return to Miller 72 quarts of whisky seized by prohibition agents during the raid.

Prohibition Director Sam Collins, after Judge Cochran had entered the order, stated that he would supervise personally the return of the whisky and that it would be made within the next several days. The whisky now resides in the vault in the federal building.

FLEMING COURT TO END THIS WEEK.

Circuit Judge C. D. Newell will complete the regular term of the Fleming Circuit Court at Flemingsburg this week and will leave for Georgetown to preside as judge of the Scott Circuit Court for the regular term, the regular Judge being ill. The regular term of the Bracken Circuit Court will open on the first Monday in March and the Mason Circuit Court will open its regular term on the fourth Monday in March.

DON'T KILL RABID DOG.

Local physicians, since a rabid dog recently bit two local children, urge upon the people that dogs thought to be mad not be killed but be penned and held for examination. There is much trouble in determining whether or not a dog is rabid, if the animal is killed but if the animal is kept alive and watched for ten to twelve days, it can be definitely determined whether or not it has rabies.

LITTLE WILLIAM.

William Rice King, the seven-year-old son of Mrs. Lula Downing King, died at the home of the mother at Washington Wednesday morning after a long illness. The bright little fellow was a victim of infantile paralysis but his death was caused by pneumonia.

Funeral will be held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the grave in the Maysville cemetery by Rev. Nicholas.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE BIG FEATURE PICTURE.

Again Tuesday evening the Washington Opera House was well filled at the production of the great feature picture, "The Four Horsemen." This great picture which has created much praise in Maysville will be shown for the last time in Maysville Wednesday afternoon and night. Those who have not seen the picture should not lose this opportunity.

DAMP WEATHER EXPECTED TO HELP NON-POOL MARKET

Averages on Wednesday's Sales Were Good But Little Is Offered—More Expected on Account of Weather

There was little tobacco on the local non-pooled market Wednesday but what there was sold well and crop averages were good.

The damp weather of Wednesday is expected to cause a rush on this market because growers will be enabled to handle their crop to an advantage and will be rushing it in to get the money.

Prohibition Director Sam Collins, after Judge Cochran had entered the order, stated that he would supervise personally the return of the whisky and that it would be made within the next several days. The whisky now resides in the vault in the federal building.

A "MOB" OF 16,000,000

The 16,000,000 people who voted for Harding in 1920 may be interested to see in what kind of a class they are placed by an article given wide distribution through the columns of the New York World, one of the most violent of the internationalists. This article calls the Republican party a mob, and asserts that "though they polled over 10,000,000 of the hyphen vote, Cox had a big majority of the native American vote." The same article declares that "the I. W. W. swelled its majority."

A mob of 16,000,000 people is som mob, sure enough. A combination of hyphenates and I. W. W. agitators making a total of 16,000,000 is some combination, believe us.

Manifestly, the World is too dense to perceive the utter absurdity of the statements to which it gives distribution. Mr. Cox polled only 9,000,000 votes against the 16,000,000 for Harding. If the Harding vote was made up chiefly of hyphenates and I. W. W.'s disloyalists and anarchists—then this country is on the down road to destruction. The World ought to have the good business sense to escape the catastrophe by packing up its belongings and removing to dear old Lunnon, so that its treasure may be where its heart is.

As for the rest of us, we can stand continued association with the mob that voted for Harding. As we meet them on the street and transact business with them, they do not look to us like either hyphenates or I. W. W.'s. So far as we have observed, they are law-abiding citizens, usually taxpayers, all working for a living, and earnestly trying to pull the country out of the hole in which it was placed by the Democrats. The mob is good enough for us.

OUR OLD FRIEND "KINNEY MAC"

The old fire fighting machine, "Kinney Mac," is to be given a new motor and will bound forth to answer alarms next week with the vim and vigor of a youth, although the machine is a veteran which has long ago won its laurels.

This piece of machinery is one of the best investments the city of Maysville has ever made. For eleven years the old Kinney Mac, winter and summer at noon or midnight, has answered the call with speed, and, through this machine, the Maysville Fire Department has made for itself a reputation for effectiveness equaled by few in Kentucky, saving the property owners of Maysville thousands of dollars.

There are few automobiles in any sort of work which have a record of eleven years of continuous service. Most machines pass into the discard at less than five years.

Much of the long life of the Kinney Mac is due to the care it has received at the hands of our efficient firemen, who look upon this machine as an old friend. It came into the service with our present Chief at the first establishment of a paid fire department in Maysville and is quite a pet with Chief Newell and his men.

We shall be glad to see the old machine come forth with new vigor and join with the boys at the Fire Hall in wishing for it many more years of service.

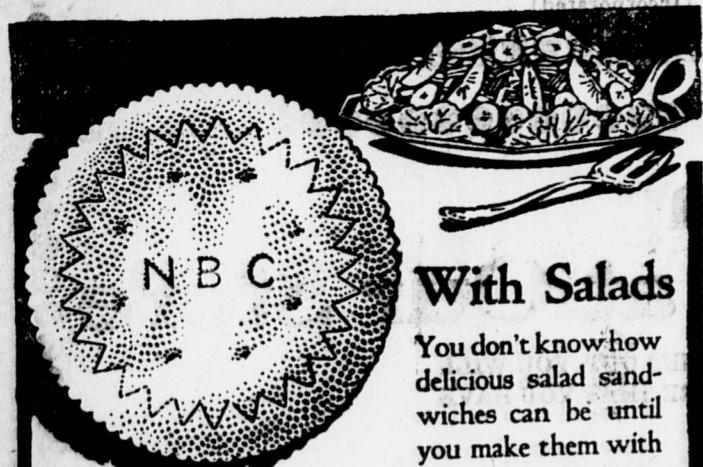

COMMUNITY PARASITES

Judge Harry C. Curran has sounded an alarm for all community parasites in his recent decision that all able bodied men must work, when work can be found, or leave Maysville.

Judge Curran has the approval of all who are interested in the community in his stand. For too long there have been men who have made themselves parasites on this community. No community is better to its poor and unfortunate than Maysville, and this open hearted charity should not be abused by worthless vagabonds who have no more interest in the community than to live from its alms giving.

No citizen is worthy unless he produces something by his labor, be it manual or mental, and Judge Curran is to be congratulated upon his letting it be distinctly understood that loafers, vagabonds or parasites are not wanted in Maysville and cannot stay here and be comfortable at the expense of the public.

The twenty leading crops of the United States in 1919, arranged in order of value, were corn, hay and forage, cotton, wheat, oats, potatoes, tobacco, apples, barley, sweet potatoes, rye, rough rice, grapes, peaches, kafir and milo, oranges, sugar-beets, peanuts, dry edible beans, and sugar cane. The total value of these twenty crops was $13,754, 290,926, which represents more than nine-tenths of the total value of crops shown by the fourteenth census.

PHYSICAL STANDARDS

FOR CHILDREN

Washington, D. C. — The U. S. Public Health Service has for a long time been occupied in various parts of the country in an investigation of physical standards for children.

Before relief can be fairly applied to children it is necessary to know whether or not a particular child really needs it. Of course, many children show their need plainly, but many others whose need is even greater may not show it to a casual inspection until it is too late wholly to prevent the consequences.

The common test of a child's health development, and about the only test that can readily be applied to children in mass, is to ascertain by some standard table of age-weights prepared for the purpose, whether or not they weigh as much as they should at their age.

If the child is 10 per cent, or more under standard it is considered to be under nourished and is treated accordingly. This, however, may or may not be the case, for the standard tables are largely approximations. Nevertheless they serve a useful purpose, pending the establishment of more accurate and scientific standards, by calling attention to individual children and causing a more careful examination to determine whether the substandard weight is due to a remedial cause.

Some of the age-weight standards used in the United States are merely averages of all classes of children, including with the well those who have hampering physical defects and those who are actually undernourished. They probably never did apply to all parts of the United States and quite possibly they no longer apply even to the particular part for which they were originally devised.

Immigration may have worked great alteration in the population; the region may have changed from agricultural to industrial; or other changes may have occurred.

The population of the United States is very varied. It comprises lanky New England fishermen, short strong Italians, heavy broad-shouldered Ger-

MURDEROUS LOVE.

Sarah Kline, 23 years old, a Brooklyn girl, wished to give her family the advantage of living in a free country. She wanted to postpone her marriage to Nathan Slug, until she could earn enough money to bring her relatives over from Russia. This did not meet with Slug's desires and he issued an ultimatum that she must marry him at once. When she refused he shot and killed her and turned the revolver on himself, inflicting a serious wound, from which the chances are he cannot recover.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — Two or three couples dancing to a phonograph record near an open fire—sounds like a scene in a big living room, doesn't it? But it isn't, in this case. It's right out on the sidewalk down in Eldridge and Clinton street, in New York's lower East Side. It happens nearly every evening there, unless it is storming TOO badly. There is no other place of amusement down there for the young couples, except the picture shows. And however one may love the movies, after all dancing is the real life! So they take to the sidewalks, where the phonograph man has a wheezy old machine, but brand new jazzy records, and an open fire in an old card can at the foot of the phonograph cart. It blazes cheerfully, and when the boys and girls' fingers get stiff with the cold they stop and warm them, then go on dancing.

—NY—

Spring is here—and not only in the millinery shops. The florists have it, too. Pussy willows, jonquils, and even apple and peach blossoms are turning the windows into creamy spots of joy along the avenue. Ice on the sidewalks and winds that blow through your heaviest coats aren't so bad with these bits of encouragement within sight.

—NY—

For some reason the women of the stage have not yet been stamped upon the public's mind as pre-eminently domestic. There will be a shock for some of the minds making up the great entity when they hear of the actresses' new organization, the National State Women's Exchange, just established in New York. There the heroines of the drama will demon-

Two lines went, "The biggest fall guys of them all are working down in City Hall, in old New York." "Fall guy," I many explain for the information of the innocent, is the same as "sucker." Well, some children in the play had the permit for their appearance taken away. No one knew why. Then some one ordered "Change that song." Those lines were accordingly changed to "The boogs who are the first to fall, are selling stocks at Broad and Wall," and the children's permit was given once again.

—NY—

New York now boasts a bodechild of a king, even if it hasn't achieved any new titled relations for quite awhile. The thirteen-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paxton Hibben was christened Jean Constantine last Sunday in the Church of the Transfiguration, with Bishop Germanos Trojanos of Sparta, in his robes of office as arch of the Greek church representing King Constantine as sponsor. Mr. Hibben, formerly a captain in the expeditionary forces, has been a friend of Constantine for several years and is author of a book called "Constantine I, and the Greek People."

Jean Constantine received from her godfather a gold cross inscribed with her name and that of her royal sponsor.

FOUR HORSEMEN

IS GREATEST STORY OF MODERN TIMES

Million Dollar Screen Masterpiece To Be Seen Here Next Week
At the Washington
Theater.

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" to be shown at the Washington Theater next week, is the greatest picture of modern times.

The story in short follows:

Madarilaga could gaze from his rancho across limitless stretches of waving grass to the farthest hilltop, gallop the long way to that hilltop and gaze again, and have surveyed only his own estate. He was one of the great landholders of the Argentine, baronial in his power over the many distinctions of those who worked his possessions, fabulously wealthy, ruling his domain with a rough kindness and blunt justice.

And having wrested from the earth an emperor's riches, Madarilaga became consumed with one big and simple longing: for a son to be his heir. But it went unsatisfied. His two children were girls, Luisa and Elena. This adverse stroke was followed a score of years later by another: Elena ran away with a German employed on the estate, a man her father did not like; nor would he choose any one of Elena's boys to inherit his fortune. Like their father, they were tow-headed, bespectacled; their child-minds were forced to precociti in the hothouse of deficiency. So when Luisa, the other daughter, the wife of Desnoyers, a Frenchman, gave birth to a handsome, dark-eyed, manly little boy, Madarilaga's exultation ran amuck.

He gave Julio, this dashing youngster, all he had missed in his youth: much money and more freedom; and he gave him also to understand that the measureless plantations some day would be Julio's. The grandson took well to it. He became a celebrity in the Argentinian tango places, where adventure may mean the soft caresses of a warm cheek or the cold sting of a stiletto. His lithe strength and grace got him known as the best dancer in the cafes; his courage and handiness in a fight protected him in the brawls born of jealousy.

What would have been the boy's end had not Madarilaga suddenly died is not easily conjectured. It came as abruptly as a blow from behind. The old man, investigation proved, left no will. The money was divided between the two families; and like homing pigeons, Desnoyers and his German son-in-law by marriage sought their fatherlands.

France, Julio's father bought a flash house in Paris and a chateau in the drowsing valley of the Marne, furnished them with a prodigal lavishness: the walls almost literally were papered with art treasures and troc-iques.

Once the transmigration was past,

Julio settled back into much the same life he had led in South America. True, he took a studio and played at painting; but his best work was done at night, when he set heartily to painting

Paris very red indeed. He was out quite thoughtless, however. His goodness o' heart prompted his sharing his luxurious quarters with a penurious

Spaniard, Argensola; and his mind was sufficiently mature to enpathy, the sombre philosophy of Tchernoff, Russian who lived above him.

Youth must find love, and Chichi and Julio were no exceptions to this rule. Their discoveries were of different sorts, however; Chichi's a boy-and-girl romance with Rene, a young

Frenchman who adored her with an almost pathetic intensity; where

Julio's was with Marguerite Laurier, the wife of a friend of his father's. An unhappy victim of marriage arranged in the Continental fashion,

Marguerite's was no unusual dilemma.

She actively disliked her husband;

and when a woman is in that situation and there is nearby a younger man, especially one with the graces and the satyr-like fervor of Julio, the outcome is inevitable. They danced together a great deal in restaurants, for Paris wa sthen tango-mad. She came to his studio many times — one too

the two lovers.

SID HATFIELD'S WIDOW TO WED STATE TROOPER.

Williamson, W. Va., Jan. 31. — A marriage license was issued here today to Mrs. Sid Hatfield, widow of the former Chief of Police of Matewan, and to Sylvester H. Pettry, a state trooper stationed at Matewan. The wedding will take place at Matewan tomorrow night, it was said.

Mrs. Hatfield's first husband was C. C. T. Testerman, Mayor of Matewan, who was shot and killed in the pistol fight between residents and private detectives in May, 1920. Shortly thereafter she married Sid Hatfield, Chief of Police at the time of the fight in which ten were killed. Hatfield was killed last August on the steps of the court house at Welch.

At this time over 700,000 of these children will be receiving American food. During January, 1922, 1,250,000 of them will be getting a daily ration from American relief agencies. European agencies will also be caring for 750,000.

There are still 3,000,000 destitute children to be cared for. Each $15 will supply free food, clothing and medical aid to one child until September, 1922. The number of saved depends on the response given by the generous peoples of America and the rest of the world.

WOMAN BLAMED BY HER FAMILY

Restless, irritable, nervous, excitable and exacting is the charge against her by those nearest and dearest. How little they realize the struggle the overworked wife and mother is making to keep about and perform the hundred and one duties that devolve upon her! Every hour her headaches, backaches and pains drag her down until she can stand it no longer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more women in this condition to health and happiness than any other medicine. The grateful letters we are continually publishing in this paper from women who have found health by its use prove it.

COUNCIL MEETS THURSDAY.

STARVING CHILDREN OF RUSSIA NEED MORE ASSISTANCE

America Has Greatly Relieved Russian Famine But There Are More Needing Help.

In September, 1921, five million Russian children were facing death from starvation during this coming winter.

Two million of these children have been provided for.

But there are still three million of them who will either die or grow up human liabilities upon their country and the world unless aid is forthcoming.

In Russia the situation is worse than it ever was in any part of Europe. There, they are not only lacking in food for proper development of children, but are lacking in food even to keep them alive.

Ever since 1917 a great curtain has hung between Russia and the outside world. Not until Maxim Gorky's world-wide appeal "To All Honest People" on July 13th, 1921, did the eyes of the world center on the actual situation in Russia. The awful misery and destitution revealed has startled and aroused the sympathy of the whole world.

In answer to this appeal, Herbert Hoover (July 18), Chairman of the American Relief Administration, offered in the name of the charity of the American people to carry to these children relief. He wrote:

"I have read with great feeling your appeal to Americans for charitable assistance to the starving and sick people of Russia, more particularly to children. The A. R. A. supported wholly through the generosity of the American people, has funds in hand by which assistance for the children and for the sick can be undertaken immediately."

On August 20th, in Riga, Mr. Hoover's representative signed the agreement with the Russian authorities whereby the A. R. A. should carry relief to one million Russian children.

On September 2nd the first shipload of food was landed in Petrograd. On September 3rd the first trainload of food reached Moscow.

On September 10th the first trainload reached Kazan, in the famine district on the Volga.

On September 12th the first feeding kitchens were opened in the famine district and the children who had for months been living on roots and bread made from grass, were fed white flour, rice, beans, cocoa with condensed milk and sugar. Many of the children had never seen any of these articles and the older ones remembered them only as a half forgotten dream. It was so unreal and unbelievable to them, and perhaps the greatest surprise was that the food continued to come in and they continued to receive a meal each day.

On November 1st, 2,000,000 of these children were being fed and had the assurance, due to the generosity of the American people, that they would not only live but would develop into healthy-minded and healthy-bodied children because of this one meal they receive every day.

At this time over 700,000 of these children will be receiving American food. During January, 1922, 1,250,000 of them will be getting a daily ration from American relief agencies. European agencies will also be caring for 750,000.

There are still 3,000,000 destitute children to be cared for. Each $15 will supply free food, clothing and medical aid to one child until September, 1922. The number of saved depends on the response given by the generous peoples of America and the rest of the world.

GET COLOR INTO YOUR PALE CHEEKS

If Your Face Is Your Fortune. Don't Look Like a Bankrupt.

Who does not want red lips, a good, clear, healthy complexion and bright, flashing eyes?

Some people have such wonderfully good health nothing seems to harm them. Others could so easily have fine color and more strength and vigor if they would help nature with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It is a splendid iron tonic that physicians have prescribed for thirty years. It is not an experiment. It is not merely a temporary help, because it makes plenty of red blood and, as everybody knows, red blood is the only sure foundation of permanent health and strength. Get Pepto-Mangan of your druggist—and take it a few weeks and see how much better you feel and look. Sold in liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

EDITOR IS FLOGGED BECAUSE OF ARTICLES AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Drumwright, Okla., Jan. 31. — R. L. Moore, editor of The Drumwright Post was seized by a band of six masked men at 7 o'clock last night, taken to a thickly wooded spot a few miles southeast of the city and severely flogged with a blacksnake whip, police said today.

Moore said he asked the members of the band why they had seized him, according to the police, and was told it was because he had been printing radical editorials advocating overthrow of the city, county and state governments.
